Not a problem. I know the implications, I read the news over the weekend :) I also sent him a copy of the Chesapeake ATGAS health consult so he could see the format of the document I am working on for Dimock. I told him they were considerably different sites.

I spoke with [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] this morning. I had to know what the situation was for the KDE data that Tate Kunkle sent to us back in early December. KDE is [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] (not the father of the large [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] tract of land). This is a separate well from [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy]. In fact, the property is located [Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy] residence. The property has a well and a garage but no dwelling. They have held off on development since this issue has reared up. Basically, the KDE data is a separate well and nobody is consuming this water because there is no dwelling on the property.
